

Privacy Policy - Raffles:

This website occasionally runs raffles that may request personal information from you including your:

- Name
- Personal email address
- Personal phone number
- Home state or zip code
- Age
- Gender

This personal information may be accompanied by questions relating to your health status, enrollment status, insurance and benefits coverage, personal and/or professional contact information, and opinions.

The raffle prizes are provided by various health and welfare benefit vendors and other vendors (Vendor) with whom Segal has a business relationship. In the event that you are selected to win a prize supplied by a vendor in the raffle, your name, email address, home address and phone number (“contact information”) will be disclosed to that vendor for the purpose of the vendor providing you with that prize.

If the vendor sends you special offers and other marketing material, you will have the option to opt-out of receiving such offers and materials by contacting the vendor directly.

Vendor may sell or otherwise use or share the contact information that it receives from us as a result of a raffle. Other than the contact information of a raffle winner (name, email address phone number, home address), no personal information will be disclosed to a vendor by Segal in connection with a raffle. This information will only be used internally by us to identify raffle winners, compile anonymous statistics about raffle participants, and publish the names of winners internally at Segal.

You can choose not to include some of the personal information requested in the raffle entry, but some of it is required (contact information at a minimum) so that the vendors can contact the winner. You have the right to not provide the information requested or can simply not enter the raffle if you do not wish to have your personal information disclosed to vendors.

All data collected during a raffle will be protected by the same security measures and procedures as the rest of the data that we collect and process on our website. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us at jarce@segalco.com.
